

Dominick Belfiore Bio:

Dominick Belfiore serves as the Director of Operations and Special Projects for the National Contract Management Association (NCMA). His specialty is bringing people and vision together. He accomplishes this through the development and execution of strategic projects that contribute to the growth of the Association. Dominick has been connected with the Contract Management community since 2010 in various roles directly in contracting and in support of small business contractors. He is the Distinguished Graduate of the 2012-2013 Contract Management Leadership Development Program (CMLDP). Dominick has served in various volunteer roles within NCMA at both the local and national levels. He has served on active duty in the U.S. Marine Corps, has an MBA from William Paterson University and a BS in Business Management from Ramapo College of NJ.