Office: Washington, DC

When it comes to government contracting and litigation, Susan has deep knowledge and wide-ranging experience and can offer seasoned counseling and effective representation. Her top priority is addressing and resolving her client's matters as efficiently as possible.

Susan is a thought leader in public contracting. Businesses, nonprofits and consortiums seek her sage advice and counsel on complex and emerging issues in government contracting, compliance, audits, investigations, bid protests and litigation.

She has vast experience in government, industry and private practice advising and representing clients in government contract, grant, and agreement matters. She has extensive experience handling bid protests, small business size protests and appeals, contract formation, administration and compliance program issues, strategic alliances, security, cost and pricing, business systems audits, voluntary disclosures, FAR Mandatory Disclosures, audits and investigations, requests for equitable adjustment, claims, and formal and informal dispute resolution, including arbitration, formal and informal mediation, hearings, judge and jury trial, district and appellate litigation. Clients seek her advice when confronted with difficult, unique or emerging issues, such as developing cyber and supply chain risk compliance rules; Buy American, Trade Agreements Act, and Specialty Metal compliance; non-standard federal research and development-related matters, including other transaction agreements, technology investment agreements, cooperative agreements, Small Business Innovation Research, and grants; as well as USAID/Host Nation, battlefield and contingency contracting, and foreign military sales.

Susan is the Chair of the American Bar Association Public Contract Law Section. She is also an ABA fellow and holds leadership roles in the ABA's Section Officers Council and Public Contract Law Section. She also serves as Co-Chair of the National Defense Industrial Association's Cyber Legal Regulatory Policy Committee. Previously, she held positions as President of the Boards of Contract Appeals Bar Association, National President of Women In Defense, member of the Board of Directors of the National Defense Industrial Association, Chair of the D.C. Bar Government Contracts and Litigation Section, and member of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims Advisory Council.
